The glass is complete; the foot has been broken and repaired with glue. It includes a bowl, a stem and a foot. The bowl is slightly chokéd at the top and has a straight edge; its bottom is curved towards the stem, which is solid. It consists of a cylindrical segment resting on a half-button, which rests on the top of the foot. The foot is circular in shape, with a truncated cone profile at the top. The underside shows a trace of glass pontil ; The decoration is molded. It is geometric. The lower third of the bowl is adorned with wide flutes and a domed top. These change, albeit subtly, on the stem and on the button of the lower portion of the stem into small vertical ribs, and extend all the way to the foot.
