The glass is complete; there is a chip on the rim. It is in three parts: the bowl, the stem and the foot, the stem and bowl being joined. The bowl is truncated cone-shaped, with a tapered wall at the bottom and a flared rim at the top. The stem is solid, cylindrical and tapered at the bottom. The foot is circular, with a folded edge on the underside. Its profile is conical. The center of the underside of the foot shows a trace left by the pontil, a tool used by the glassmaker to make the glass ; None, other than the shape of the object.
