

Blackening bottle

<https://collections.pacmusee.qc.ca/en/objects/blackening-bottle-2018-010-0270/>

Collections / blackening bottle

CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license

The bottle is complete, with the exception of small chips on the rim, wall and bottom. It is cylindrical in shape, with an angular, conical shoulder; the neck is cylindrical and flares out at the top, with a slightly domed top. The base is slightly beveled. The base is slightly domed. The body is pale gray in color, covered with a brown ferrous coating and a salt glaze, giving it a shiny appearance in places. There are defects in various places on the wall and bottom ; None, apart from the brown coating which covers the entire surface of the container, as well as the underside of the bottom; the salt glaze gives a shiny appearance to a small portion of the surface.

Accession Number 2018.10.270

Date 1891 c

Materials ceramics, English Derbyshire coarseware 3

Measurements 12,6 x 4,857 cm

© Collection Pointe-à-Callière, Paul-Gaston L'Anglais fonds,2018.010.0270

Photo by René Bouchard

On display