The bottle is complete, with the exception of small chips missing from around the base. It is cylindrical in shape. In cross-section, it features a slightly domed wall, an angular shoulder and a high neck with an angular bearing at mid-height, ending in a neck with a domed lip and domed top. The wall is tapered towards the base, which is flared with a plain contour;

the bottom is flat. There are traces of a white material on the wall. The turning rings are visible on the outer wall ; none, apart from the bearing neck.
