The bowl is complete. It is circular in shape. In cross-section, the wall is flared at the top, the rim is straight and the top is domed. The wall rests on a flared base with a flat bottom. The bowl has two horizontal ears on the outer rim. They have flat faces and backs, and are open-worked in the center, being made of a curved pudding. The body is a pinkish-beige color. It is covered with a white slip on its inner surface; the upper outer half is covered with a green-colored glaze. There is an engraved mark on the bottom in three registers: Collection Nouvelle-France Chambly Québec ; The decoration is plastered. The inside of the bowl is covered with a white slip under the colorless glaze. The upper outer half is covered with a green-colored glaze.
