

Carbonated water bottle

<https://collections.pacmusee.qc.ca/en/objects/carbonated-water-bottle-2018-010-0284/>

Collections / From federalism to the end of the Second World War / carbonated water bottle

CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license

The bottle is complete. It is cylindrical in shape, with an angular shoulder; the neck is conical, short and straight. The neck has a swollen lip with a flat, narrow top, and a screw thread on the inside. The base is beveled. The bottom is slightly domed. The body is gray; the top is covered with a brown ferrous coating and a colorless liquid glaze, giving it a shiny appearance. There is a mark printed in black on the outer wall, in three registers, the first and last being arched: BULLARD & SONS Ld TRADE (anchor) MARK NORWICH. An oval cartouche on the lower part of the wall encloses a mark in three registers: . BOURNE 19 DENBY. ... ; The upper part of the bottle, i.e. the neck and mouth, are covered with a brown ferruginous coating. The bottle is covered with a colorless liquid glaze that gives the surface a shiny appearance.

Accession Number 2018.10.284

Fabricant / Éditeur Joseph Bourne

Date 1916 c

Materials ceramics, English coarse stoneware, dark liquid glaze

Measurements 16,6 x 4,06916 cm

© Collection Pointe-à-Callière, Paul-Gaston L'Anglais fonds, 2018.010.0284

Photo by René Bouchard

On display