The bottle is complete. It is square with rounded corners. The sides are tapered at the neck and domed at the top; the shoulder is rounded, the neck short and tapered upwards, topped by a high lip with a flat top. There is a glass burr under the neck. There are two vertical mold lines on opposite corners, starting at the base and extending over the shoulder to below the neck. The base has a domed fulcrum; the center is recessed and flat. It shows the trace of a small molded ring; none, apart from the fine texture on the outer walls.
