The bowl is complete; some breaks have been repaired with iron spikes. It is circular in shape with a plain rim. It has a concave wing with a plain rim. The wall is high and curves towards the bottom, which is slightly domed. On the reverse, the bowl has a slightly sunken base with an angular rim. The rim is underlined by a groove. There are three traces of pernette under the wing. The reverse features four iron spikes, the ends of which are inserted into drilled holes. The support point and bottom show traces of wear. There are linear wear marks on the inner base, as well as on the junction of the wing and the wall ; The decoration is hand-painted in blue and black underglaze. It is geometric. It is visible on the wing and in the center of the background. The decoration on the wing is a ribbon traced in black and adorned with two motifs traced in blue, a recumbent X and a cross, repeated alternately. The background motif is a medallion traced in black; it features a center in four divisions traced in black and adorned with radiating lines painted in blue, which is surrounded by a ring of semicircles traced in black and painted in blue.
