The bottle is complete. It is circular in shape. In cross-section, it has a tapered wall at the sock, a rounded shoulder and a long, straight neck, topped by a straight, high lip with a flat top. The base of the bottle is highly flared, with a wide, flat base and a recessed, flat bottom. There are two vertical mold lines on opposite corners, from the base; these lines cross the shoulder and go to the neck. Numbers molded in relief under the base: 494. The neck and upper half of the neck are covered with traces of tin foil ; None, other than the shape of the object.
