The plate is complete; some shards on the bottom have been repaired with glue. It is circular with a plain rim. It is massive. The rim is thick and almost straight, while the top slopes outwards. The wall is curved towards the bottom, which is flat without a foot. On the reverse, the base is circular and slightly recessed. There are three traces of a pernette in a triangular pattern on the reverse. The body is beige, lightly fired, with a very pale brown outer surface. The entire inner surface, top and outer rim are covered with a green copper oxide glaze; there are numerous drips on the outer wall; the glaze covering the inner surface of the ware gives it a certain decorativeness, thanks to its copper oxide coloring.
