The plate is complete; some shards of the rim have been repaired with glue. It is circular with a plain rim. It is massive. The rim is thick and rounded at an angle on the outside, while the inside wall is straight; the top is rounded. The wall is curved towards the bottom, which is flat without a foot. On the reverse, the bottom is circular and flat, except for the center, which is slightly domed. The body is white, lightly fired. The entire inner surface, top and outer rim are covered with a green copper oxide glaze; there are numerous drips on the outer wall; the decoration is incised. The circumference of the inner base is highlighted by an incised ring. The glaze covering the inner surface of the object gives it a certain decoration, thanks to its copper oxide coloring.
